Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know It.

How To Find Out.
Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also derange out of order.

What To Do.
There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail, simply by sending Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

The Place To Trade

Nasal Catarrh quickly yields to treatment by Ely's Cream Balm, which is agreeably aromatic. It is received through the nostrils, cleanses and heals the whole surface over which it diffuses itself. Druggists sell the 50c. size; trial size by mail, 10 cents. Test it and you are sure to continue the treatment.

Announcement.
To accommodate those who are partial to the use of atomizers in applying liquids into the nasal passages for catarrhal troubles, the proprietors prepare Cream Balm in liquid form, which will be known as Ely's Liquid Cream Balm. Price including the spraying tube 25 cents. Druggists or by mail. The liquid form embodies the medicinal properties of the solid preparation.

OLD ASSOCIATES.

I used to recall every night as I'd rest. Of many companions the ones I loved best—Old Sindbad the Sailor, Aladdin, whose lamp brought fortune, and Bluebeard, the terrible scamp. They never deceived me or offered me harm. But gladdened by dreams with a fanciful charm. There's a loss for which facts cannot offer amends. Since I bade a farewell to my fairy book friends.

They were idle and thoughtless, but better, perhaps. Than some of these bustling and plausible chaps. Who offer me stocks or a tip on the race or tell what they'll do if elected to place. 'Tis indeed a sad day when a youngster breaks loose From Jack and the Beanstalk and kind Mother Goose; The enchantment is over and the curtain descends. When you bid a farewell to your fairy book friends.

THE LIEUTENANT'S YARN

A Charm That Saved a Soldier's Life In the Zulu War.

BY JOHN STOCKHOLM.

"Now, then, Casemate, let's hear from you," said the major.

The gunnery lieutenant—Gunnery Jack—was called afloat—roused himself with a start. "I beg your pardon, chaps," he said. "I can think of nothing but that broken recoil spring of my 4.7. It's hard lines to be hung up like this just when you're wanted."

"Never mind, old man," said the adjutant. "You've made a hit if she never fires another shot. Your men's shooting has been an eye opener."

"My old gunner's mate said when I complimented him on a good shot, 'Well, sir, with a fixed target and us at anchor, too, when once we get the range something's got to shift.' If we'd had a few big guns in the Zulu war, we should have finished that job a bit quicker."

"Were you in that swim, too?" said the major.

"Yes," said the lieutenant. "I was a young sub then—one of old Dicky Bradshaw's boys from the Shab. South Africa runs in our family. My old dad was out here, too, in the Kafir affair."

"I got that from him," he added, protruding from his tobacco pouch a rather dirty looking object like a small egg, bolt or a clock key with a hole in it. It was extremely heavy and hard and as far as could be discovered through its outer coating of tobacco ash and dust was of some metallic stone.

"What is it?" said the war correspondent. "A bacey stopper?"

"That's what I use it for," said the lieutenant. "By rights it's a charm for saving life."

"I know a man myself," said the major, "who carries a potato in his pocket to keep off the rheumatism."

"This might save you from hanging," said the adjutant. "But it wouldn't help you much if you were drowning. It's extraordinarily heavy for its size."

"It saved my life once," said the lieutenant quietly.

"A yarn, a yarn!" said the major. "Order, please, for the yarn of the mystic charm that keeps you from harm and alarm. Pegs round first. Now, then, Gunnery John, unfold your curly tale."

"I must begin with the dad," said Casemate. "He was out in the Kafir affair, as I said, in 1852. He was in command of the old Forty-fourth."

"Began! I thought you'd got an army back on you," said the major.

"Why did you leave us, Jerehab?" "You've heard of an old chief named Moshesh?" resumed Casemate.

"Yes, but he was farther north. wasn't he?" said the major. "You mean Moses?"

"This was a descendant of his, I expect. He was boss of the show among the niggers here in the early days. He was the original early bird about these parts. Well, a descendant of this old Johnny was captured by the Forty-fourth, and owing to some bit of dirty work he'd been mixed up with, our men wanted to chop him up."

"But the gov'nor said, 'No, discipline is discipline and a chief's a chief, at least, like the poor Indian of untutored mind, he clothes him before and goes bare behind.' He gave him a tent to himself and a Bible to read and used to explain it to him in the evenings after fighting hours."

"Curious chap the gov'nor was. I've heard him say that some of the chief's questions used to keep him awake all night trying to think of the answers."

"However, they got so thick that, when they parted, the chief, who was going down to the Cape for trial, gave him this bit of stuff. He said it was the most precious thing he could give him. It had belonged to Moshesh and had been kept in the chief's family since the time of Ham, I think. It was a safe cure for ague and would guard the wearer against any form of violent death."

"The gov'nor said that as the result of the trial was so uncertain the chief had better keep it himself. But the old man said he would rather die than anything should happen to the gov'nor and forced it on him."

"Tummy chaps, these niggers," said the adjutant, "where they take. You can fetch 'em with music too. A fiddler can lead 'em anywhere, they say."

"Yes, they'll follow him—with bricks," said the lieutenant. "I was in a ship once on the west coast that carried a band, and the seecde boys asked that all the instruments might be stopped except the drum. A taste for music is natural to them, like curly hair."

"However, to get back to the charm. The poor old matter, who firmly believes in the thing, made me promise to carry it. So I've kept it in the pouch and used it as a pipe stopper ever since."

"You remember how the Shab got into the Zulu scramble, of course."

We'd done four years on the Pacific and were homeward bound, with Pleasure at the helm, when we were brought up at St. Helena by the news of Isandhlwana. Old Dicky Bradshaw brought us back here on his own, and three weeks later we were landed and working our way up to Eshowe.

"There's been some talk lately about 'first class fighting men.' We've tackled several sorts of them in our time, but for sheer pluck the Zulu was second to none, in my opinion. Some of them would actually throw themselves on our bayonets so that others could get through. If that isn't the real thing, I should like to know what is. But they don't smell nice in a scuffle."

"We used to try a few navy dodges on them when we were in laager. We pretended to abandon a gun once and when they gathered round, looking down the muzzle, let her go with a long bayard. The tricks didn't always come off, though. Our Gunnery Jack planned a grand coup once—he's a captain now, lucky beggar."

"How was it you never got shoved up over it, old man?" said the major.

"To you get shoved up in the army for doing your job without shouting?" said Casemate. "My gunner would let me go up. If he knows a Johnny who could give me a shove, he'll ask him as a favor not to do it, because it might smell unfair. But I'm satisfied. A man that likes his mates is better off in a wardrobe than perked up in a captain's cabin, alone with his nobility."

"I don't want the money. I like my job, and when I'm tired of it I'll go ashore and catch butterflies."

"However, to get back to Gunnery Jack's coup. We used to be worried a good deal by night attacks. The beggars used to try to rush us on dark nights, and even single fellows sneak their way into the camp sometimes. Jack laid out some mines at one place we pitched at to welcome them with. One middle watch the word was passed that they were coming, and we all turned out to receive them."

"There was some loose scrub a little distance off which had led Jack to expect attack from that side and to lay the mines there accordingly. We could see dark forms moving about in the scrub and edging toward us, though rather slowly, and after a rather tiresome wait Jack at length shouted, 'Heave ho!' and touched the wire."

"The whole earth seemed to rise up in front of us, and then a shower of earth and stones fell all around. A thing that rather surprised Jack was the hind leg of a mule which came flying through the air and bowled him over like a rabbit. He said it was the first time he had ever been kicked by a leg from a mule on it."

"In the morning we found the remains of no less than six of the camp mules scattered about. They had got out somehow through a soft place in the larger and nibbled their way round to the scrub. Jack didn't do any more mining."

"That reminds me," said the major. "of the mining battalion at Chatham. They blew up a bridge they'd crossed a creek by and couldn't get back again."

"But what about Moses' charm?" said the correspondent. "Where does that come in?"

"That was another affair," said Casemate more gravely. "I'd almost forgotten. We used to get single niggers at night, as I said, in spite of the sharpest lookout. You can't see a one night I woke up and a big fellow trying to unhook my gun from the tent pole. He was a gigantic chap, and standing between me and the tent door, he loomed like a house. I felt cautiously for my revolver, but he either saw me or heard me, for his arm went up, and just for a moment his assagai stood across the light like a white bar, and then it came straight at me."

"But the good old charm checked it in midair," said the major.

"Not quite in midair," said the lieutenant. "I felt a bang that I thought had staved my chest in, and then he was on me. We scuffled a bit, but I got hold of the revolver and let him have a Mark II just as our fellows rushed in. The spear had hit the bacey though in my breast pocket—of course I was lying down at a rickety end. It was brought up against the stopper. It's pretty hard, but he made a bit of a mark on it, you see. The mater's got the assagai at home now with the point turned up like a bent pin."

"The drawback to your charm is that it only acts when it's in the line of fire," said the major. "Still it was a lot of old me and I congratulate you and ourselves, too, that you're here to spin the yarn."

"And so say all of us," sang the others.—Navy and Army Illustrated.

A Child's Essay on Seals.
After giving the natural history of the animals, a little girl drew her moral. "It is very cruel," said she, "to kill seals just because we want to wear their skins. I think it is rather fortunate for them, as it shows that they were created for some good purpose."

Taught to trace "good in everything," the puzzled child had done her best to explain the slaughter of vast colonies of harmless animals for the sake of the skins which had been given them by a loving Creator and had come to the conclusion that it was for the seals' good that, instead of, as she said in her essay, "wallowing about on the ice," they should be skinned for the benefit of man.

On cross examination it proved that she did not really believe that it did the seals any good and that all her sympathy was with them, but her education had already taught her to try to persuade herself that "everything is for the best" and to understand that if our reason cannot reconcile facts with theories it is our reason that is at fault.—Contemporary Review.

HE WON THE CASE.

A Story of Lincoln's Wonderful Mental and Physical Ability.

Professor Stevens was once working up a mining case for the government in a western state where Mr. Lincoln was practicing law. Mr. Lincoln at the time was comparatively unknown in law and politics. When the professor engaged his room in the crowded country hotel, he found that a Mr. Lincoln was to occupy one bed in the room, as there was no other place where he could be accommodated. After arranging his books the professor settled down in an easy chair to prepare his brief.

Mr. Lincoln soon came in and made himself known. He said he also had to spend the evening making up an argument upon a mining case, and he knew less about mines than about anything else. In an hour the professor finished his work and retired, but before he did so he granted his roommate the privilege of using all his books, maps and papers upon mines and mining. Then he went to sleep, and when he awoke at 7 the next morning he found Mr. Lincoln just where he had left him poring over his books and papers. The lamp was still burning, although it was daylight.

As Professor Stevens' case did not come up the next day he attended the court to hear Mr. Lincoln present his arguments. He reached the scene in time for the opening speech by his roommate, and he staid all through the session.

Although Mr. Lincoln spoke for over an hour on the technicalities of mines and mining, he did not make a single mistake. He cross examined some half dozen surveys and engineers and in every case puzzled and embarrassed them with his knowledge of the subject. Of course he won the case. But Professor Stevens said that everybody in the court believed he had been graduated in mining engineering and had devoted years to the study of the science.—Saturday Evening Post.

SHE ORDERS HIS CLOTHES.
And Takes Great Pains to Have Her Husband Properly Dressed.

The wife of a man who served with distinction as a cabinet officer during a recent administration entered a tailor shop near Fifth avenue a week ago and said to the proprietor:

"I am Mrs. So-and-so, and I don't suppose that women come into your shop very often."

"A good many women help their husbands to select their clothes," said the proprietor.

"Well, I am glad to hear that," said the woman. "I have bought my husband's clothes for him ever since we were married, and if I did not look out for them he would not have any clothes. He never thinks of them. Didn't even when he was in Washington, though he was always properly dressed. Now I want some spring clothes for my husband. I will select the samples for three suits, and I will tell you just how to make them. When my husband comes to get measured, don't pay any attention to his orders about the clothes if he gives any. If he ordered his own clothes, he would not be suited anyway."

The proprietor found that this woman knew as much as the average man about men's clothes, and he accepted her directions. On the following day, when her husband came in, the proprietor recognized him from his pictures and said:

"Mr. So-and-so, your wife selected goods for three suits of clothes for you yesterday, and if you will step back I will show you the patterns."

"Young man," said the ex-cabinet officer, "I would not dare to interfere with my wife's selections. Just take my measure as quickly as you can and make the clothes as directed."

After the measurements had been made the ex-cabinet minister hurried out without asking what style of suits had been ordered for him.—New York Sun.

Hopeless and Helpless.

The consequences of a diseased condition of the stomach and digestive and nutritive system are most disastrous to the whole body. One by one every organ may become involved. The misery is maddening. The most extreme cases of "stomach trouble" and the evils resulting from it have been cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It strengthens the stomach, purifies the blood and builds up the body with sound healthy flesh.

"I was taken with severe headache," writes Thomas A. Swarts, Box 105, San-Stanton, Cal. "I had a severe attack of the stomach, and then my liver and my back got weak so I could scarcely get around. I just gave money to the doctors whenever I thought they would do any good, but the more I doctored the worse I got until six years passed. I had become so poorly I could only walk in the house by the aid of a chair, and I got so thin I had given up all hope, thinking that I could not be cured. Then I saw one of my neighbors boys and he said, 'Take my advice and take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and make a new man out of yourself.' The first bottle helped me so I thought I would get another, and after I had taken eight bottles in about six weeks I was weighed and found I had gained twenty-seven (27) pounds. I have not gained twenty-seven in the past eleven months. I did more hard work in the past two years than I did in two years before, and I am as stout and healthy today, I think, as I ever was."

SONOMA, JULY 14, 1900.

H. H. GRANT - EDITOR

"Yorick" of the San Francisco Post has a warm reputation as a critic. In Saturday's issue his comments "On the Margin" was particularly readable. The Chinese question was discussed at some length and Christian missions were given a scorching which they had hoped to escape on account of the sanctity of their position. "Yorick" declares that religion cannot be stuffed down the throats of a pagan people at the point of a sword—that it is inconsistent with the creed which they would have their non-believers believe. He compares this system of diffusing Christianity to that of Mohammedanism. The disciples of the prophet Ali sought to establish their faith by force—the Koran or the sword. This was the only alternative. Shall the 20th century Christian follow in the footsteps of 7th century barbarian? Must we establish our beautiful faith by desecrating it? "Yorick" puts the questions strongly and answers them as only "Yorick" can. Christianity should be as an inspiration, not as an instrument of war and death.

The fire which destroyed the immense Swamp Root medicine plant of Dr. Kilmer & Co., July 1st, was the most disastrous which has ever occurred in Binghamton. However, the Kilmers resumed business next morning, though not at the old stand, which is a heap of smouldering ashes. While the firemen were yet pouring water on the burning Chenango street establishment, the Kilmers were arranging to do business somewhere else. That this great industry might not be crippled for a moment, through the courtesy of other prominent firms and citizens, the large factory and adjoining buildings on South street were vacated for the benefit of the Swamp Root people, and possession was taken immediately, and here, by Monday July 8th, this new, temporary factory will be turning out Swamp Root, the great Kidney Remedy, in quantities of about 60,000 bottles per day, and in two or three weeks' time the full capacity of more than four times that amount will be produced. The immense demand for Swamp Root will thus in no way be interfered with. On the old site, with adjoining property which has just been purchased, will be erected immediately an absolutely fire-proof six-story structure, plans for which have been nearly completed.

A MOVEMENT is on foot in this place to organize a Farmers' Institute and Professors Fowler and Hayne of the University of California will shortly visit Sonoma with that object in view. Much benefit is to be derived by these Institutes, which have for their purpose the betterment of the conditions of the farmer, both socially and financially. A number of our leading citizens are interesting themselves in this matter, which will assure for the Institute a large membership when it shall have been organized, which will probably be within a month or two.

THE Board of Directors of the Sonoma and Marin Fair Association will meet in Santa Rosa on the 21st inst. to determine the place for holding the Fair this Fall. There are two competitors for the prize—Petaluma and Santa Rosa. Out of a spirit of fairness to Marin county, if for no other reason, it seems to us that the Fair ought to be held in Petaluma. Santa Rosa is admirably located for a Sonoma county exhibit but is too remote when both counties are to be considered.

THE Republican County Central Committee will meet to-day in Santa Rosa for the purpose of apportioning the nineteen delegates allowed Sonoma county to the State and Congressional Conventions and to make provisions for nominating such delegates to be voted for at the Republican primaries on August 14th. The time for the holding of a County Convention and the apportionment of delegates will also come up for consideration.

THOMAS F. OWENS, the Lytton Springs murderer, has been sentenced by Judge Dougherty to be hanged on October 2nd.

EXAMINATION OF WILPRET.

Held to Answer for Assault to Commit Murder.

The Defendant's Bonds Fixed at $1,500.

The preliminary examination of T. A. Wilpret, who shot and dangerously wounded Chas. Barker on the O'Donnell ranch a couple of weeks ago, was held before Judge Cheney in Glen Ellen yesterday. Ever since the shooting Wilpret has been confined in the county jail awaiting the result of Barker's wound, which came very near proving fatal.

After listening to the testimony pro and con Judge Cheney held defendant to appear before the Superior Court on a charge of assault to commit murder. His bail was fixed at $1,500.

Brevities.

Fred Poulson has started a new blacksmith shop in this place.

Miss Susie Burgunot of San Francisco is here visiting relatives. Will Perkins and family are up from San Francisco. They are the guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Perkins.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Malstead were up from San Francisco Sunday and spent the day with their parents Mr. and Mrs. Julius Pochetti of this place.

The estate of the late Jennie C. McCauley, a former resident of this place who recently died in San Francisco, has been appraised at $93,700. Over $90,000 is in real estate.

Preaching services in the Methodist Church to-morrow (Sunday) at 11 A. M. and 8 P. M. Morning subject: "The Perfection of the Christian Life." Evening subject: "America as a Factor in the World's Problem." All are cordially invited. Henry Pearce, pastor.

Supplies for the Home.

Bids for furnishing supplies to the California Home for the year beginning July 1st were opened by the Board of Trustees of the Home on June 30th. Among the successful bidders were G. H. Hotz and Henry Weyl of this place. The latter secured the contract for furnishing meat for $1312.00, and the former dry goods at $4190.40 and notions at $185.66.

Striped Bass Fishing.

Howard and Harry Knight and Wm. Church caught several fine bass and a large number of catfish in Schell's slough last Sunday. Striped bass fishing in Sonoma Creek and the small sloughs tributary to it has afforded great sport to local fishermen the past season. Jo. Anderson, who is an adept angler, is high fish in bass fishing, having caught a large number of his gamest of game fish the past two weeks.

Grain and Fruit Theives.

Farmers of Embarcadero and vicinity complain that their fields have been systematically robbed of sacked grain the past week. Constable Ohm is hot on the trail of the offenders.

Farmers in the vicinity of El Verano complain bitterly of the inroads made on their orchards by fruit thieves, who not only steal the fruit but also damage the trees. In order to keep trespassers off his premises Prof. Wilkinson is having a six foot wire fence erected alongside the road from King's crossing to Sonoma creek.

TO THE DEAF.

A spring wagon, containing three guests of the Wegner Villa, was backed off the grade in Nun's canyon on Monday by an unruly horse. The occupants went over the steep embankment with horse and vehicle but miraculously escaped serious injury, although all were more or less bruised and shaken up.

STUNTED

Does your hair split at the end? Can you pull out a handful by running your fingers through it? Does it seem dry and lifeless? Give your hair a chance. Feed it. The roots are not dead; they are weak because they are starved—that's all.

The best hair food is—AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

If you don't want your hair to die use Ayer's Hair Vigor once a day. It makes the hair grow, stops falling, and cures dandruff. It always restores color to gray or faded hair; it never fails.

"One bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor stopped my hair from falling out, and started it to grow again nicely." JULIA WITT, March 28, 1899. Canova, S. Dak. "Ayer's Hair Vigor completely cured me from dandruff, with which I was greatly afflicted. The growth of my hair since its use has been something wonderful." LENA G. GREENE, April 13, 1899. New York, N.Y. If you do not obtain all the benefits you expect from the use of the Hair Vigor, write the Doctor about it. DR. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Mass.

SUPERIOR COURT NOTES.

In department one of the Superior Court in the matter of the action of F. Quen vs. G. Bocca and others, the motion to dismiss the defendants' motion for a new trial was denied. It was ordered that the defendant comply with the court's order regarding the transcribing of testimony within ten days. Judge Dougherty ordered that as defendant failed to comply with the order within ten days, on motion of plaintiff the motion for a new trial will be dismissed.

Default of the defendants was entered in the cases of the people against J. A. Hardin and Charles A. Hermann, in foreclosure on school lands.

The will of the late M. K. McCorkle was admitted to probate. Allie J. McGill was appointed executrix. No bonds were required of her.

The final account was settled and distribution was ordered of the estate of Henry Hagan.

Henry Kuchel and Edward Kummer were appointed executors of the will of Jacob Kuchel and it was admitted to probate. T. J. Butts was appointed attorney for the absent heirs.

A petition to sell personal property of the estate of Elizabeth Ann Palmer was granted and the order was made.

The will of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Rule was admitted to probate. Probate matters continued: Estate of Gustaf De Bruyne, estate of J. W. Winger and Nancy F. Williams, to July 16th; estate of Alpheus J. Laughlin to July 11th; estate of Albert Soldate, to August 20th.

Judge Dougherty also called the calendar in department two. The matters were as follow:

Default was entered in the divorce proceedings brought by Loella Burch against George W. Burch.

The Wickersham estate matters and the contest went over to July 16th.

HOW CHARLES W. BABCOCK

Proprietor Lyceum Shell Oyster Parlor, of Rochester, N.Y. Obtained $2,000 Life Insurance Policy.

"My business as proprietor of the Lyceum Shell Oyster Parlor, 245 Main street, Rochester, N. Y.," writes Mr. Charles W. Babcock, "was so confining that my lungs became affected. My doctor told me I'd have to leave the store and go to work at some thing outdoors. He said my lungs were in bad shape, and I knew it just as well as he did. The trouble had been growing on me for a long time. Like most other people, I tried to make myself believe he was wrong. I called it stomach trouble or nervous disorder, but I kept coughing, spitting and wasting away right along. I lost in weight, falling from 140 to 115 pounds. Somehow or other, I got hold of Ayer's English Remedy for Throat and Lung Troubles, and after taking it according to directions, I was as well as any man in New York State. I was healthier and stronger than before I took the cold which came so near killing me. I now weigh 150 pounds—ten pounds more than ever. After recovering, I applied for a life insurance policy. When the doctor began examining me, I was afraid he would discover that my lungs had once been affected, but he didn't. I passed all right, and was pronounced in a first-class condition. If that isn't proof of the most positive kind that Ayer's English Remedy is a great medicine, I don't know what you can prove. I give it my warmest endorsement. My address is given above. Anyone who wishes may write me personally about my case."

Sold at 25c., 50c. and $1 a bottle, throughout the United States and Canada; and in England, at 1s., 2s., 3s., 4s., 5s., 6s. If you are not satisfied after buying, return the bottle to your druggist, and get your money back.

We authorize the above magazine, W. H. HOOKER & CO., Proprietors, New York, for sale by R. G. SHOUTS, Druggist, Sonoma.

For Malaria, Chills and Fever

THE BEST PRESCRIPTION IS Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic.

The formula is plainly printed on every bottle—hence you know just what you are taking when you take Grove's. Imitators do not advertise their formula knowing that you would not buy their medicine if you knew what it contained. Grove's contains Iron and Quinine put up in correct proportions and is in a Tasteless form. The Iron acts as a tonic while the Quinine drives the malaria out of the system. Any reliable druggist will tell you that Grove's is the Original and that all other so-called Tasteless Chill Tonics are imitations. An analysis of other chill tonics shows that Grove's is superior to all others in every respect. You are not experimenting when you take Grove's—its superiority and excellence having long been established. Grove's is the only Chill Cure sold throughout the entire malarial sections of the United States. No Cure, No Pay. Price, 50c.

Local Happenings

City Trustees Meeting.

Owing to the regular semi-monthly meeting night of the City Trustees having fallen on July 4th, a special meeting was held last Tuesday evening to transact the business of the deferred meeting. A full Board was present.

Outside of the passing of the usual monthly bills little or no business of importance came up for discussion.

A bill from R. A. McDonnell for $1.50 for repairs was presented and laid over. On motion of Trustee Davis the amount collected from Rev. Dr. Buckner for a lecture license was ordered returned to him, the receipts of the house being so small that they would not justify the paying of a license of $2.50.

Further time was granted President Dahring on the proposition to purchase a fire-proof safe for the city.

No action was taken in the matter of the petition of John D. Wagon to be appointed Sexton of Mountain Cemetery and the appointment went over until the next meeting.

The following bills were ordered paid:

J. H. Albertson, salary, etc.	$22.25
D. Valente, cleaning fireplace	9.20
A. Asili, electric light	61.00
P. G. Keil, oiling and packing hydrants	3.50
H. Munroe, repairs	1.75
Jno. Stademan, street sprinkling	57.60
Joe B. Small, services and supplies	13.08
Total	$158.38

TOM MANN

GORED BY A BULL.

Five Ribs Broken and Spine Injured.

Tom Mann, a young man well-known all over the Sonoma Valley, was attacked by a vicious bull at Kenwood Monday and almost killed. As it is, his injuries may yet prove fatal. The beast rushed at him and catching him on his horns hurled him to the ground and repeatedly gored him. His injuries consist of five broken ribs, an injured spine and numerous abrasions. Mr. Mann is the son of Mrs. Mann of Agua Caliente and has resided in this valley for years. He now lies in a very precarious condition.

A Wonderful Performance.

Sweitzer, the handsome chestnut racing stallion recently sold by Granville Harris of this place to a Napa horseman, created a surprise last week by reeling off a mile on the Santa Rosa track in the remarkably fast time of 2:13. About a year ago Granville Harris purchased Sweitzer from a party at Lakeville for one hundred dollars. A few months later the horse was sold for one hundred and seventy-five dollars, and again for five hundred dollars. Sweitzer is the fastest son of the famous Secretary, and when he paced round the oval in 2:13 he was in his first race. He has been entered all through the grand circuit and will undoubtedly go below the 2:10 mark before the close of the racing season.

Miss May Perry Passes Away.

May Elizabeth Perry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Perry formerly of this place, and a sister of the late Annie Perry Weems, is dead. She passed away at the home of her parents in Ferndale, Humboldt county, on June 24th, after an illness of over a year. For five months previous to her death she had been confined to her bed. The deceased was born in Brown's Valley, Napa county, December 21, 1882, and for three years resided in this place with her parents. She was of a sweet disposition and her many Sonoma friends will be more than pained to hear of her death.

Percy Wilson Arrives in Nome.

Percy Wilson, who left for Nome last May, has written to his brother, Tom B. Wilson of Cloverdale, that he arrived safely at his destination on June 18th. He says that there are 25,000 people in Nome and they still continue to come at the rate of 1000 a day. Meals are $1.50 and it costs $1 for a snooze in a wooden bunk. Bread is 25 cents a loaf and water five cents a bucket. Young Wilson was born and raised in this place.

Artesian Wells for La Lomita.

Mr. E. T. Allen, the retired merchant of San Francisco, who recently purchased La Lomita, one of the lovely homes of this valley, has engaged the services of Frank W. Bean, the well known artesian well-borer, and will have a number of flowing wells bored on the place.

Champion Wing Shot.

Clarence Nauman, in a match shoot for $100 a side in Alameda county last Saturday, killed 97 birds out of a possible 100, and raked in the money. It was the best score ever made on the coast and places Mr. Nauman, who has many friends in this place, at the head of Pacific Coast wing shots.

The Native Sons.

Sonoma Parlor N. S. G. W., is constantly receiving accessions to its membership and is in a very flourishing condition. Monday last two new members were initiated, Messrs. Paul Perasso and Wm. Fouts.

$5 Reward.

Lost at Agua Rica Hot Springs a pair gold eye-glasses with gold chain and hair pin attached. A reward of $5 will be paid for recovery of same. Leave at this office or at my residence.

MR. J. WATT.

New Road.

Lost Shawl.

Lost—Between Sonoma and Embarcadero, Saturday, July 7th, a black crocheted shawl. Finder will please leave at this office.

PIERCE FOREST FIRES

Large Area of the Wickersham Ranch Burned Over—

Grass Fire on the California Home Tract.

Dense volumes of smoke were seen to arise Thursday afternoon on the Wickersham ranch, and shortly after aid was summoned from this place to combat one of the most stubborn forest fires that has broken out in this valley for a number of years. Our citizens responded to the call and joined a large body of fire-fighters from different parts of the valley who were already on the ground combating the fiery element. After the fire had burned over a large area of the ranch and destroyed a quantity of fencing, timber, hay and pasture the fire-fighters surrounding it on all sides and by back-firing and the use of wet sacks succeeded in getting the leaping flames under control. Mr. Tomasi, the manager of the ranch, and his force of men worked heroically before the arrival of aid from adjoining ranches and towns, and did much to stay the progress of the fire, but had not assistance arrived one of the most disastrous forest fires ever recorded in these parts would have been the result, as a stiff wind was blowing and scattered the flames in all directions among the rank growth of dry grass. The loss to fencing, etc. will amount to several hundred dollars. The same afternoon at about 3:30 a grass fire also broke out on the grounds of the California Home at Eldridge and after burning over several acres of pasture was got under control and finally squelched with little loss.

In addition to these fires several other forest fires were raging furiously in the mountains north of town in the direction of Brown's Valley. As we go to press this latter fire is still sweeping over mountains and down canyons and is probably doing a great deal of damage to fencing and timber.

Reckless Hunters Arrested.

Paul Pebelaer, who hails from the French colony of San Francisco and is rusticated at the El Verano Villa, was arrested by Constable Ohm last Monday afternoon and charged with disturbing the peace. He was taken before Judge Cheney and pleading guilty was fined $10, which he paid and went on his way rejoicing that he had escaped from the Philistines of the Sonoma Valley with a whole hide. Pebelaer's offense was discharging a shotgun in a reckless manner on a public and much-traveled thoroughfare, the officer having overhauled him near the El Verano bridge immediately after discharging his arsenal. Later in the day he arrested another city hunter on the veldt near the Maxwell place and charged him with the same offense. The latter offender was likewise taken before the Judge, but the arresting officer subsequently withdrew the charge and he was discharged from custody.

Garden Party.

The gypsy fete and garden party given by the Catholic ladies last Saturday night was a brilliant success. The Empanan garden was artistically decorated with Oriental lanterns and pretty booths while the presence of a bevy of charming girls and matrons added much to the picturesque of the scene. The first part of the evening was devoted to an excellent program. Billy Hines, San Francisco's pride, was here with all his jokes and songs. Miss Queen Montgomery, little four-year-old Miss Dorothy Riedy danced and there was a pretty gypsy drill. After the program there was music, dancing and refreshments.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks to the many kind friends and neighbors whose assistance was so generously offered and accepted during the illness and death of our beloved one, Herman F. Stademan. The favors shown and the condolence bestowed upon us we appreciate most of all in this hour of bereavement, and although words can scarcely express our gratitude we take this means to commune the spirit with which we regard the many kindnesses shown us.
